THE PHS VIEWPOINT: A direct expression of Princeton teenagers' attitudes on drugs, sex, religion and social reform — not relayed by a youth worker or teacher, as is often the case, but reflecting a poll taken by the students themselves — appears in this issue of TOWN TOPICS. The "Morality Poll," as editors of "The Tower," Princeton High School newspaper, called it, is reprinted in part in the current "Rising Generation" series on page 31. The remainder of the poll will be printed in a later issue this summer.

Borough's Dilemma: Will Many Students Win Right to Vote Here?

Princeton Borough mirrors the dilemma of college towns across the country. Now that the 18, 19 and 20 year-olds have the right to vote, WHERE will they vote? At home or in their college town?

"If the students vote as a block, they can control any election in the Borough of Princeton," Borough administrator Robert F. Mooney says succinctly.

"I haven't lived at home for three years," says Rich Schnure, a Princeton University senior. "I'd like to vote in Princeton, but it looks like I'll have to vote in Pittsburgh. The local politics there have no bearing on me, but in Princeton they do. I live here now."

Steve Kraft, 20, of Ridgeview Road and a junior at Harvard College, plans to register in Massachusetts "because in the 1972 election I'll be up there and it'll be more convenient."

He adds, "I feel much closer to the Cambridge problems than to the Princeton ones. I could certainly see voting on Cambridge local issues, although I doubt that I would take part in any organizing."

"If there's a way to see that the students don't vote io two places, I see no reason why they can't vote here," is the comment of Lowell F. Curran of 50 Murray Place.

"The feeling is that students are four-year residents for ten months a year," Mrs. Orren Jack Turner, an active Republican, states. "And if they are able to choose a mayor or councilman, it's not fair."

In Princeton Borough there are about 4500 registered voters—and at least 4500 students in the University, Seminary and Choir College combined.

"Why should non-residents, non-taxpayers vote!" is the comment of a Borough resident who doesn't want his name used. "Imagine if a $1 million referendum was voted in by the students. They would go home and the taxpayers would be left to pay the bill. . . ."

A group of university students tried to register at Borough Hall earlier this year and were turned away because officials stated they did not fullfill residency requirements. Attorney Joel Sterns of Trenton plaos a court suit on their behalf.

Assemblyman Karl Weidel, a Mercer County realtor, introduced Assembly bill A-2467 last May which would require all students to vote in their home towns. The bill was promptly referred to the Judiciary Committee, chaired by Peter Thomas of Morris County, which has no college problem, and it remains there. The Assembly convenes on November 11, just after the election.

Five states — Massachusetts, Wisconsin, Oklahoma, Vermont and Florida — have ruled that students may vote in their college towns. "That's just the opinion of the attorney general. We'd like to see what happens when it's tested in the courts!" a Princeton resident says.

In New Jersey, it's different. The basis is a Superior Court ruling in June, made in an Essex County case brought by a student from Seton Hall. "The judge's ruling was that each student's case has to be decided on an individual basis," Deputy Attorney General Denois Quinn told TOWN TOPICS. "The burden is upon the student to show that he intends to make the university town his permanent residence."

The Seton Hall student lost his case, based upon such evidence as a driver's license showing his residence as a southero New Jersey town, where his mail was also received, Mr. Quinn noted.

The Borough has always allowed married students to vote, "because they have cut themselves away from their home base, so to speak, and settled down as a family," Mr. Mooney comments. "It's the single students we're concerned about."

Mrs. Turner disagrees. "Most students at the University, I would say 85%, are not interested in voting. I find an apathy in the 21-year-old. The Woodrow Wilson

The Winds of Change Blow at Council Meeting

A town changes . . .

Three aspects of change came up at the Borough Council meeting on Tuesday.

Sometimes change roars through like a riptide. Drug abuse has done this to Princeton in a handful of years. Mayor Robert W. Cawley announced a new effort—a youth-to-youth approach — to combat the crippling tragedies of narcotic and hallucinogenic drugs.

The effort would be co-sponsored by the Borough and Township in conjunction with SLEPA (State Law Enforcement Planning Agency). Application for SLEPA approval was signed by both mayors this week. The youth-to-youth organization is the New York-based Institute for Applied Psychotherapy, for which a local board of directors is planned, representing a broad cross-section of the community. (Detailed story, page 3.)

A Street Changes, Too. Sometimes change slides in sideways. Take a block-long street, Lytle, for instance. Renters gradually become home owners. The environment takes on a different tone. In the general prosperity of the times, the change is unnoticed until the shock of an erruption between the old and the new.

Lytle Street joins Witherspoon and John streets like the crossbar on the letter H. It is in the most densely populated part of the area.

There are 24 houses on Lytle, ten of them owner-occupied. The houses include headquarters for two small trucking firms; American Legion Post 218, the Tash Liquor Store and, at numbers 16-18, the OK Bar.

The OK Bar, owned by Mrs. Theresa Nini, opened in 1935. A fixture on the street since then, it closed seven years ago due to Mrs. Nini's heart trouble. In the interim, she has kept the liquor license alive and now would like to sell it to Paul Harvey of Lambertville. She also wants to sell him the premises.

Tradition a Factor. Borough Council, acting as agents of the state Alcoholic Beverage Control, was to approve or disapprove the license transfer. Council was confronted by tradition versus change.

For over two hours, Council heard both sides of the issue. The John-Witherspoon Civic Association, led by Mrs. Kathleen Edwards and an attorney, vehemently opposed the transfer.

They want the bar closed, or transferred off Lytle Street. They cited the proximity of three churches and drew a parallel to the case several years ago when Renwick's restaurant, then on Nassau Street near Palmer Square, was denied a license "because it was too close to two white churches."

John Witherspoon speakers said the street was zoned residential under the current Master Plan, that the OK Bar was defunct and under Master Plan terms had no right to open. The environment and safety of the Lytle Street children was stressed, as was the probability of added traffic and noise generated by the bar. The American Legion at 26 Lytle Street and the Masons' Aaron Lodge No. 9 on adjacent Maclean Street were problems enough where noise and traffic are concerned.

Petition Favors Bar. Mr. Harvey and his attorney, Gordon Straus, pressed for a prompt decision. They presented a favorable petition signed by 71 residents of the area, which had been circulated by Mrs. Nini and her daughter.

This Is Princeton

In the same vein, Council had the Borough Administrator read aloud from the barrage of letters favoring the transfer. Friends and relatives of Mrs. Nini also spoke.

Mr. Harvey said he liked Lytle Street, that the overhead was low and that he planned to run the OK Bar "as a small neighborhood place without intending to draw traffic into the area." He said he would run the bar just the same way Mrs. Nini used to run it.

A tall, husky young man, who spoke with diffidence, he stuck to his theme through an onslaught of questions from the J-W group. Asked if he'd thought about locating elsewhere, he said gently, "I am completely charmed by this building and its location. It has an aura of nostalgia about it." (Hoots and laughter from the J-W members.) "I mean it. I'm serious."

A recurring theme from the Nini side of the fence (and Mrs. Nini literally lives on the other side of the OK Bar fence—at 17 Maclean Street) is that she has paid her taxes and license fees and has a right to sell both land and license. Supporters noted that it would be the only public bar in the neighborhood.

One Solution. Borough Council had attorney Gordon Griffin explore the possibility of the Borough buying the license and retiring it. Only if the license holder requested it, he said.

In response to the suggestion of the J-W attorney, Council voted to postpone decision on the license transfer until after the August 19 meeting of the Zoning Board where the property aspect will be reviewed for a second time. The case pivots on zoning ordinance interpretation of the seven year closing.

Pay for Councilmen. And still another aspect of change came up at the Council session: putting to rest the tradition of unpaid volunteer officials. The voters will decide at the next general election whether or not to award a $750 annual allowance to each of the six Borough Councilmen. The mayor's salary has been increased by ordinance from $500 to $1000 yearly.

The voters who call Councilmen at their homes and at their places where they work, who see them in the increasing whirlpool of incessant evening meetings, zooming budgets and complex policy decisions at the tag end of their normal working days, will probably endorse the referendum.

A town changes . . .

SKIRMISHING CONTINUES In Carpi Case. Prosecution attempts to obtain various types of evidence through search warrants and other legal maneuvering and efforts by the defense to block such moves highlighted the pre-trial proceedings in the murder charge against Colin C. Carpi. Explanations had been that the case would go to the Grand Jury this Thursday, but a delay developed as the Mercer County prosecutor's office sought to obtain additional evidence of his possible guilt.

Prosecutor Bruce M. Schragger won a point when Superior Court Judge A. Jerome Moore refused to prevent him from entering the Carpi home at 148 Fairway Drive. Mr. Schragger had said he is in search of "samples of certain rugs and rug matting believed to be in the defendant's home."

Laura Carpi, 37-year old estranged wife of the self-employed investment counselor, disappeared February 8 from her home at 213 State Road. A body was found in the East River, New York, on June 11 but was not identified until July 22.

Mrs. Carpi, who died from a bullet wound in the back of the head, may have been carried from her home in a rug after having been murdered, police believe. A blood spot was found on the underliner of a rug in her home.

Rights Violated? Gerald Stockman of Trenton, Mr. Carpi's lawyer, declared in an affidavit that entry of the Fairway Drive home would be "a

Student Vote Watched Here

School has an influence, it's true . . ."

"There was a student group involved in the last school board election, and my impression was that they were only interested in the mechanics of an election. It was Practical Politics 302 . . ."

Town of Amherst Outnumbered. In Princeton Borough, the fear of a student block vote is not so keen as it is in Amherst, Mass., where the voting population of 6,037 is faced with 21,035 students in the town's three colleges (Amherst, Hampshire College, University of Massachusetts).

A resident told the Amherst Record, "The feeling here is, it's time to move on." On the other hand, a student from Ohio at Hampshire College said to the New York Times that he thought a student take-over was a silly worry. "But there are things here that more directly affect me than things back in Ohio, and I want to have a voice in them."

Princeton senior Rich Schnure feels: "There are ordinances that affect me. And housing. It is really tough here. I don't think students would vote through a million-dollar referendum. Higher taxes means higher rents."

Sue Davis, 19, of Cherry Hill Road says, "I don't know enough about the candidates in my home town. I'd prefer to vote where I am in school, where I feel involved with the community."

A student at Hartt School of Music in Hartford, Conn., now transferring to McGill University, she notes, "In Hartford, I was concerned with a lot of issues, the school bond issue, the housing development, and I am more up on the drug problems there . . ."

Matter of Interest. The election in the Borough this fall includes a three-way race for mayor. Incumbent Robert Cawley, who's running again, says of the students, "I'm inclined to think that many won't take an interest in local affairs, although there are some who have taken a high interest and I've welcomed it. Those who have taken no interest, I'd rather they didn't vote here . . ."

Absentee ballots will be used by some of the Borough youth attending schools elsewhere. Mayor Cawley's children are among them; also Leslie Aldridge of 87 Robert Road, a student at Chapel Hill, and Raymond Pettus of Jefferson Road, a sophomore at Muskingum College in Ohio.

serious threat to this defendant's rights and liberties." He claimed that a search warrant which permitted police to enter the Carpi home in the early morning hours of July 23, following identification of the body, was improperly issued. Charging that legal and personal papers, as well as a number of rifles, had been removed at the time, he said that Mr. Carpi will file a motion contesting the search.

Both lawyers are scheduled to appear before Judge Moore Thursday afternoon to continue arguments on whether certain psychiatric and legal records should be made available to the county. Mr. Schragger has asked for release of custody papers, now court-impounded, which involved the couple's battle over the right to their four children.

The prosecution declares Mrs. Carpi was awarded custody of the children, age 6 to 11, three days before her death. It is Mr. Schragger's contention that the transcript may provide a clue to the motive for her murder.

Mr. Schragger is also seeking access to psychiatric records compiled by an East Orange doctor, whom both Carpis consulted. Mr. Stockman charges that release of the records would violate physician-patient confidences.

HUN ADMITS 40 GIRLS

As Day Students This Fall. Forty girl day students will enter the Hun School this fall as Princeton's 57-year-old preparatory school joins the spreading tide of coeducationalism for private institutions.

Addition of the girls to the traditionally all-male ranks will bring total enrollment at Hun to about 300 for next year. Though the educational aims at Hun will remain the same, elements of the curriculum will be expanded to accommodate more feminine aspects.

One new course, "The Art of Being a Gracious Member of Society," will include instruction in cooking, housekeeping, budgeting, child care and social behavior. A girls' sports program is also being added, with Barbara Pauli named as its director. Intramural activity at first will be followed by interscholastic competition.

The decision to admit girls was made after three years of study, Headmaster Paul Chesebro said. Social interaction between the sexes will be confined to classes and lounge areas, but it is generally felt that the advance to coeducation will provide a more normal atmosphere for learning.

TWO YOUTHS CHARGED

With Stolen Property Possession. Two Township youths, charged by Borough Police with possession stolen property, are currently free on $250 bail each awaiting a hearing before Magistrate Theodore T. Tams Jr. on Wednesday, August 18.

James C. Attenborough, 19, of 779 Kingston Road, was arrested on Nassau Street last Thursday and charged with possession of a stolen Honda mini bike. Patrolmen Joseph Wilhelm and Victor Fasanella made the arrest.

A day earlier, Bryan Ross, Marion Road West, was arrested by Ptl. Thomas Michaud, when he allegedly tried to cash a stolen check at the drive-in branch of the First National Bank. When bank employes questioned the check, Ross drove off, but was apprehended a short distance away after the bank notified the police.

Both the check and the mini bike had been stolen several days ago from a Township home, police said.

LIMITED APPROVAL WON

By IAP From Borough. In a special public meeting held last Thursday, Borough Council approved a resolution presented by the Institute of Applied Psychotherapy which has been seeking joint Borough-Township sponsorship for a program in Princeton.

With reservations for additional requirements to be worked out before a final contract is signed, the measure passed by a vote of 3-1, with Councilman Joseph Moore dissenting. Mr. Moore had noted that there are as yet no blacks on IAP's staff or advisory committees.

Supporting the resolution were Mrs. Alice L. Male, Martin Lombardo and John Strange. Robert Hendry and Charles Cornforth were not present.

The New York-based organization, IAP, which seeks to help young people deal with problems relating to "soft" drugs, required sanctioning from both the Borough and Township before it was eligible to apply for State Law Enforcement Planning Agency funding.

Of the $50,000 sought by IAP, SLEPA would contribute $37,500, the first year and Borough and Township $6,250 each. The amounts would remain the same the next two years, with the addition of $5,000 the second year and $10,000 the third, from outside sources.

Mayor Robert W. Cawley signed IAP's application over the weekend and Mayor James Floyd followed suit Tuesday afternoon to enable the organization to set the machinery in motion for its funds.

However, the Township will not take final action on the matter until after it has answers to more questions about IAP, at its August 16 meeting, and Mayor Cawley emphasized that the Borough will not go through with its contract unless it is completely satisfied.

Service cannot begin here until IAP sets up two boards; one of local professionals, psychiatrists and psychologists to be on call for conultation, the other composed of citizen advistry advisors from all sections of the community.

Program Detailed. Specifics of the IAP method were detailed by Mrs. Male: a trained core of young IAP paraprofessionals would maintain a center on Nassau Street near Charleton Street.

Open to anyone who sought their aid, they would provide the support and positive peer pressure needed to help kids on soft drugs or with drug-related problems to direct their own projects towards self help. The therapy aspect of the institute would involve involve informal personal dis- and group interaction.

Mrs. Barbara Diamond, 393 Walnut Lane, reacted hotly to use of the term "psychotherapy" in the group's name. When Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley explained that it was not intended to imply professional signification, Mrs. Diamond insisted, "I believe this is against the law when somebody represents themselves as something which they are not."

William Sloane, 214 Bayard Lane, a member of the Youth Concerns of the Council of Community Services who had interviewed IAP representatives, countered Mrs. Diamond's attack by explaining that IAP functioned under licensed professional overseers. Mayor Cawley also added that local psychiatrists Belle and Morris Parmet and Shirley Van Ferney had given their endorsement of the IAP program.

Herbert Hobler, 295 Mercer Street, wanted to know how IAP would relate to existing programs. After pointing out the number of different existing approaches to solving the drug problem, he queried, "Why reach out to IAP before our own house is in order?"

Mayor Cawley reaffirmed his support for the efforts already being made in Princeton but went on to say, "As the drug problem continues, the community should not be denied any potentially helpful resource."

Umbrella Committee. The Mayor called for a two-part advisory committee comprising professionals and laymen to act as an overall umbrella for maintaining inter-communications with existing drug control groups. In response to Mr. Moore's questioning, he said this not-yet structured group would include all class, race, age and interest factors in the community.

FOUR MEN CHARGED

Arrested as Gamblers. Four residents of Princeton Township were arrested here Monday afternoon and were arraigned that same day on charges of possession of lottery paraphernalia and working for a lottery.

Samuel T. Waters, 69, was arrested at his Leigh Avenue home. Taken into custody at Generino's Lounge, 57 Leigh, were Felix Generino, 44, of Leigh Avenue; iVncent J. Esposito, 53, of Hairris Road; and William Mack, 57, of Birch Avenue. Robert A. Farkas, Mercer County Assistant Prosecutor, was in charge of the arresting officers, who included Detective Norman Servis of Princeton Township Police.

Bail of $6,000 was set for Waters. The others were held under $4,000 bail each by Superior Court Judge A. Jerome Moore in Trenton.

Edward O. Johnson, 231 Snowden Lane, reported to Township police that someone jacked his car up in his driveway during the night of August 9 or early morning hours of August 10 and took both rear tires and the rims.

Charles Ostroff, 42 Cuyler Road, had a citizen's band radio and tachometer stolen out of his car while it was parked on Cuyler near Dempsey Avenue between 3 a.m. and 7 a.m. August 8. Total value $125.

A rear window of the building housing Princeton Motor Parts, 190 Witherspoon Street was broken during the night of August 9, enabling a thief to get inside. Pending a more extensive check, owner Douglas L. Corlette told police that a $5 bill was taken from a drawer, but he was not immediately certain what else.

A vending machine was broken into at the Corinthian Square Club, 30 Maclean Street, on August 9 and an undetermined amount of change and cigarettes taken.

An RCA color television set valued at $300 was stolen from the home of Miss Ruth Dew, 6 Stanworth Lane, on August 3; a day later a portable set was taken from the apartment of Edward Luchett, 12 S. Stanworth Drive.

Don't Hold Your Breath

If the temperature
Gets down to 50
Some folks we know
Will think it's nifty.

It's more than 40 degrees from where the temperature has been of late to 50, and it isn't about to get there in a hurry. But the Man does have a change in mind.

August heat and humidity should be considerably lowered, he said, by showers heading this way. The thermometer will still top 80 for the next few days, but much of the stickiness should be gone. A generally fair weekend is in store, although showers late Sunday are a possibility.

REFERENDUMS PLANNED

By Two School Districts. Voters in the regional school districts of West Windsor-Plainsboro and Hopewell Valley will go to the polls this fall to pass on multi-million dollar bond issues for the construction of new schools.

A special meeting of the West Windsor-Plainsboro board has been called for 8 p.m. this Thursday in the Maurice Hawk School. The date for the referendum and amount of the bond issue to meet increased costs of building a secondary school will be determined at the session.

The agenda also calls for the awarding of contracts to the low bidders and the adoption of a resolution to designate $72,000 of capital outlay free balances for the purchase of furniture and equipment for the new building. It is scheduled to go up at the intersection of Clarksville and Penn Lyle roads.

In June 1970, voters in the district approved an outlay of $6.9 million but the low bid for the project topped $8 million. Even that figure will not be guaranteed if a referendum to raise the additional funds is not held and passed by the end of August.

Numerous deletions in the building program have been made in an effort to cut expenses but school officials indicate that eventually, they will have to be restored. They include certain types of furniture, landscaping, parking facilities and tennis courts.

The discrepancy between the $6.9 million figure approved in the referendum and actual building costs is traceable to various delays before bids were received. Revisions in the plans were also made by the State Department of Education. Board President Robert Duncan said that construction of the building would require 16 to 18 months after ground breaking. Hopes are that seventh and eighth grade students may be able to move into the new school some time during the year 1972-'73.

Hopewell May Vote Oct. 12. Hopewell Valley's Regional School Board will ask permission from the state to hold a referendum on Tuesday, October 12. Approval will be sought for a bond issue underwriting school construction costs of $5.1 million.

Plans are to build a new 11th and 12th grade school building and to expand the presnet Timberlane School, which now houses seventh and eighth grade pupils. A $6.9 million bond issue for such work was rejected by the voters last March and the new referendum will reduce expenditures in line with their wishes.

ming pool whose presence in the original set of plans contributed to the defeat of the March referendum. However, option in the October referendum will give the voters a chance to include a $365,000 pool.

Plans are being made by Board President James C. Miller to create a citizens' committee with a membership of more than 10 which would assist the board in presenting the plans to the public. John Todd, president of the Hopewell Valley Boosters Club, will serve as a co-chairman of the committee.

GIRL, 19, NAMED

To Aid Voter Registration. The West Windsor Democratic Club has named 19-year-old Sharon McHugh, Hightstown Road, Plainsboro, to chair local voter registration for 18-20 year olds.

Miss McHugh has also been appointed to the Platform Committee for Township Committee candidates Ingrid Reed and Alan Stutz. A graduate of Princeton High School, she has lived in West Windsor for 14 years and is currently a student at Trenton State College.

MOTEL HELD UP

On Route 1. The Sleep-E Hollow Motel on U.S. Route 1 in Lawrence Township was robbed of $571 at 3:15 Friday morning.

Donald Burroughs, 37, was in the office alone as the clerk when two men rang the night bell. After one asked for a room and the other requested change for a dollar to buy cigarettes from a coin machine, Mr. Burroughs said he suddenly found a gun pointed at him.

Ordered to lie on the floor, he was kicked in the head by one of the departing robbers. They took $571 from a cash drawer.

LUNAR ROCKS DUE HERE

For Geololgical Research. The Apollo 15 moon mission will assist three Princeton University research groups in their studies of the comoosition and behavior of the earth's closest neighbor.

Subject to continued research support by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA), two separate investigations in the Department of Geological and Geophysical Sciences will benefit by receiving a small sample of moon rocks brought to the earth by Astronauts David R. Scott, James B. Irwin and Alfred M. Worden.

In one research project led by Prof. Robert B. Hargraves, magnetic properties of the samples will be studied. In another, Associate Prof. Lincoln S. Hollister will head a study of their mineralogical content--especially the crystal structure and composition of pyroxene, one of the most abundant moon minerals.

Together the two geologists hope to share no more than ten grams, or about a third of an ounce, of lunar material. Both have already completed studies of moon rocks from the Apollo 11 and 12 missions, and are currently examining material returned by Apollo 14 astronauts.

Left on Moon. Meanwhile, two Princeton physicists are among a 14-man team of scientists who will benefit from a small experimental package left on the moon by the Apollo 15 astronauts.

That package will contain an array of 300 special reflectors (known as corner reflectors, or retro-reflectors), specially designed to allow the bouncing of laser light pulses off the moon and back to their point of origin on earth. From the travel time of the light, scientists can calculate the distance of the moon within an accurace of less than a foot.

Princeton scientists associated with the group are Prof. Robert H. Dicke and Associate Prof. David T. Wilkinson.

The corner reflector package will join two similar but smaller packages left on the moon by Apollo 11 and 14 astronauts. With three reflecting locations on the lunar surface the scientists can measure directly the wobble of the moon as it responds to the varying gravitational pull of the earth, and can calculate the motion of the center of the moon.

Other experiments using the reflector package include the collection of long-range data concerning the motions of the earth's poles, continental drift, and comparison of two theories of gravitation: Einstein's theory, and an alternative theory devised by Dr. Dicke and former graduate student Carl H. Brans, now at Loyola University.

The overall project, known as the Lunar Ranging Experiment (LURE), also includes scientists from the Los Angeles and Santa Barbara campuses of the University of California, the Universities of Maryland and Texas, Wesley-

State Orders Trap Rock to Halt Dust Emissions

Some relief may finally be on the way for neighbors of Trap Rock Industries, Kingston, who for years have been complaining about the day-to-day operations of the giant concern, the largest of its kind in the state.

Trap Rock has recently signed a consent order with the State Department of Environmental Protection, promising to complete certain alterations within a year which will "substantially reduce dust emission from the quarry."

A consent order is an enforceable administrative order which the company agrees to accept, waiving its right to a hearing. A spokesman for the department said this would bring Trap Rock into compliance with the State's Air Pollution Control Code.

Trap Rock has agreed to make the needed alterations and installations to correct the excessive dust emissions by July 1, 1972. If at this time further measures are deemed necessary, both parties will confer on the additional steps to be taken and establish a deadline for their completion.

Fines & Elephant Trunks. Specifically the company has been required to enclose its stockpile of "fines" and a "fines" tower and also install "elephant trunks" on other towers discharging "fines" materials.

"Fines are the residue which remains after the various sizes of stones have been taken out in a screening process. The "fines" are carried on an elevated conveyor belt and dropped onto a stock pile. The process can create considerable dust.

In windy weather, the minute "fines" themselves can be scattered by the wind. The air pollution caused can be bothersome to people and harmful to vegetation over a fairly widespread area.

The problem at Trap Rock's crushed stone operation should be alleviated by the enclosures to be built and by the installation of "elephant trunks" tubes (so-named because of their appearance) attached to the conveyor and extending down to the stock pile, thus reducing exposure of the material to the open air.

Other Violations. The department formerly had the company under order for emission of excess solid particles, contrary to the provisions of Chapter 7 of the state code. That situation is now corrected.

The department had also placed the company under order for making alterations to the scrubbers on its asphalt plants without first securing a permit as required in Chapter 9 of the code.

"Control of dust emissions from a quarry is a complex matter," Commissioner Richard J. Sullivan explained. "Control measures are expensive and take considerable time for installation. Trap Rock has installed numerous control devices and made structural changes to its facilities at significant expense to the company, but these have not proved properly efficient.

"In the terms of the present consent order, the department and the company have agreed on a mutually acceptable program which will substantially reduce dust emissions from the quarry."

COLORADO-BOUND

To Attend Hunger Conference. Two Princeton High School students and Borough Counciman Martin P. Lombardo will attend the American Freedom from Hunger Foundation Conference at Snowmass-at-Aspen, Colorado, next week.

Dale Horan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Horan, 342 Herrontown Road, and David Cowen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Cowen, 69 Alexander Road, both students at PHS, will represent Princeton concern for the movement. The two are also co-chairman for the Walk-for-Hunger scheduled for late October.

The purpose of the conference is to support youth activities in mobilizing community resources in challenging hunger at home and abroad. Alongwith the Hunger Walk, a variety of projects concerning world and United Nations implications in the hunger issues will be scheduled for that week in October.

ART EXHIBIT SUNDAY

At Studio on Canal. An exhibition of oils, water colors and drawings by James W. Edwards, Rex Goreleigh, and Hughie Lee-Smith will be shown at the Studio-on-the-Canal Gallery on Sunday from 1-4. The show combines the sophisticated, erotic figure pieces in oil by James Edwards, the impressionistic water colors of veteran Princeton painter/teacher Rex Goreleigh and drawings by the internationally-known Hughie Lee-Smith.

The private gallery was opened last year as an adjunct to the Studio-on-the-Canal and has to date presented five exhibitions by local and nationally-known artists, including three one-man shows. It is open Saturday and Sunday 1-4 and week days by appointment.

STOKES TRIP REPLACED

By New Environment Program. For some years, the eighth grade of the Princeton Middle School has spent a conservation study week at Stokes Park. Revision of the project to a K-12 "environmental education" program was approved last week by the board of education.

William Alston, assistant chairman of the PHS science department, will serve as program coordinator. He will organize a group of resource persons from the schools and the community to assist the teachers and will also help plan field trips and classroom activities.

The plan is to make use of the woods and parks around Princeton, including the open space adjacent to the Johnson Park School.

The conservation program has $8,000 budgeted. It has been allocated on a per-pupil basis as follows: Johnson Park $480; John Witherspoon $1,280; Littlebrook $720; Riverside $640; Middle School $1,600, and high school $3,280 (which included $250 for the coordinators time).

A number of Wednesday afternoons have been devoted to examining possibilities for outdoor education for the school children, particularly in view of the open space in the area. The value of the Stokes program has never been questioned, the recommendation to the school board stated, but it was thought wise to increase the program to benefit all students on a year-long basis in view of "the increased concern about our environment and the role of the school. . ."

WEEKEND PLAYS PLANNED

By Summer Street Theatre. Princeton's Street Theatre troupe will again present a series of outdoor performances in parks and playgrounds around town from Thursday through Sunday, August 26-29.

Together with the world of A.A. Milne will be Tad Mosel's "Impromptu," co-directed by Kathy Hawthorne and Kevin Colman. The role of Ernest will be played by Bill Barish; Tony will be played by John Wible. Lora and Winifred will be played by Liz Hilst and Debbie Bellow.

The antics of Winnie-the-Pooh and his friends will be directed by Amie Brockway. David Werden will play Pooh; Andrea Murphy, Christopher Robin; Leigh Ruderman, Piglet; Chris Loye, Eeyore; and Kathy Carpenter, Tigger.

Margaret Griffin will play Kanga; Evan Ruderman, Roo; Louise Arnold, Owl; and Chris Negus, Rabbit. Rabbit's friends and relations include Myra Chanley, Adam Roth and Dick Warren. Claudia Fogelin is narrator for the story and Jane Barish is production stage manager.

ENROLLMENT TO RISE

At Stuart School. A zoning ordinance change in Princeton Township now permits Stuart Country Day School to increase enrollment from 300 to 450 students this fall. Openings are available in most grades, pre-school through 12. Boys are accepted for kindergarten through second grade.

Inquiries about the school are directed to Sister Mary Bush, headmistress (921-2330), or to any of the following members of the admissions committee: John Kuser (924-0380), James Mead (921-3178), or George Gallup (466-1216).

From the people who make something small, something big.

From the people who gave you 18,000,000 cars with 36,000,000 doors, 1 car with 4 doors.

The Volkswagen 411 4-Door sedan.

Now the temptation probably is to figure that the 411 is just a Beetle with a nice 4-door body.

Avoid that temptation.

The 411 has a very un-Beetle-like engine.

I.e., powerful!

And a lot of extras are included in the base price of the car.

E.g., automatic transmission.

And there's plenty of room for luggage. I.e., there is 20.1 cu. ft. of storage space.

And a lot of room for the people in the back.

E.g., the kids and your Great Dane.

Without boasting, there is one more thing we can say about the 411.

It's the first big car that has to be as reliable as a Volkswagen.

Because of who made it.

I.e., Volkswagen.

ENTRIES INCREASE

For New Hope Auto Show. Entries for the Fourteenth Annual New Hope Automobile Show are not only way ahead of last year, according to Roger Conduit, show chairman, but also encompass a range of unusual and fascinating cars.

This two day event will be held on Saturday and Sunday, August 14 and 15, at the New Hope-Solebury High School groups, Route 202, New Hope, Pa.

A new division this year is MG Register (through 1955 TF). This division, which will be judged on Saturday, has already attracted a number of interesting entries, including four 1948 MGs, Model TC, from Easton and Bethlehem, Pa. and from Hopewell and Jersey City, N.J. A 1932 Auburn, model 160A, from Centre Square, Pa., will be a rare entry in Saturday's Auburn-Cord-Dusenberg division, along with a 1937 Cord Phaeton from Warrenville.

The Antique Car division on Saturday will see a 1915 Saxon Roadster from Parsippany, while a 1948 Lincoln Continental from Burderstown, will be on display in the Lincoln Continental division. Sports car fans will see a very rare 1962 "gull winged" Mercedes Benz from Langhorne. Other judging divisions on Saturday are Bugatti, Corvette, Kaiser Frazer and Thunderbird, as well as special interest cars, which will be judged on both days.

Sunday's Jaguar division will include a 1961 Jaguar, model MK IX Saxon, from Forest Hills, N.Y. A particularly good car will be on hand in the Classics division - a 1932 LaSalle, model 345-B, from Prospect Park, Stamford, Conn. will be represented by a rare 1956 Carribbean Hardtop Packard. Other fine cars in the Packard Division are a 1930 Packard Speedster from Churchville, Pa. and a 1939 Rallston Panel Packard from Jamaica, N.Y.

The Rolls Royce and Bentley division will be highlighted by a 1922 Springfield Silver Ghost Rolls Royce from Bethlehem, Pa., a 1924 Silver Ghost Picadilly Roadster from Jenkintown, Pa., and from Bloomfield, a 1930 4½ liter Bentley. Sunday's judging divisions will also include antique trucks and fire engines, custom cars, high performance, Ferrari, Model A Ford, Plymouth and Vintage Chevrolet.

Sunday will feature a gas economy run with approximately 50 clues which will take place on an 80-mile course through scenic countryside. Participants will register at the Golden Nugget parking lot on Route 29, two miles south of Lambertville and 13 miles north of Trenton. In addition, the show's famous automotive flea market will be open both Saturday and Sunday. Admission to the Auto Show is $1.25 for adults, with children under 12 admitted free. Proceeds from the show are used by its sponsors, the New Hope-Solebury Community Association, to implement their educational and recreational program for children and adults in the New Hope-Solebury area. Show grounds open to the public at 10 a.m. each day.

RANGERS ON THE MOVE

In YMCA Summer Camp. This summer's agenda for the YMCA ranger program has included a variety of camping, training and conservation activities centered around the basic two weeks of day time training for boys 10-12, followed by extended camping and canoeing trips.

Implicit in the ranger camp experience is a heightened appreciation for nature and its welfare. This year, a major project for the boys was the clearing of a looping nature trail through the Herrontown Woods.

Working with affiliates of the Conservation Commission ranger campers and their leaders identified trees and and marked points of interest along the way.

Leadership Stressed. An emphasis for developing good leadership skills materialized into a leadership training program for 15 boys, once rangers themselves. After one week of learning camping skills and how to work with younger boys, the group served as assistant leaders with the adult rangers for regular campers.

The corps of 15 will end their summer with their own two-week trip of camping at Cape Hatteras, N.C., then the Everglades, and skin diving off the Florida Keys. The junior leaders include: Chuck Magers, Ward Wilson, Jim Adriance, George Krebs, John Herzberg, Garret Graaskamp, Douglas Smith, Albert Drueding, Steven Blumenthal, Jim Meigs, Jeff Leigh, Gregory Schmidt, David Paynter, Daniel M Grath, and Ken Post.

MORE MONEY EARMARKED

For Area Colleges. Rep. Frank Thompson, Jr. has announced approval of an additional $222,880 in Federal work-study funds for colleges and universities in the Fourth Congressional District for the 1971-72 school year.

Earlier this year, the Office of Education approved an initial allocation of $169,314. Work-study funds are used to help pay tuition for needy students who work at a variety of public service jobs while attending school. The Federal Government pays 80 percent of student payrolls. The college or off-campus agency pays the remainder.

The new allocations and the total workstudy fund figures for the 1971-72 school year are:

Princeton University, $94,313 for a total of $188,953; Rider College, $10,976 for a total of 20,000; Trenton State College, $25,000 for a total of $38,878; Mercer County Community College, $58,471 for a total of $83,830; Westminster Choir College, $9,863 for a total of $13,181; Princeton Theological Seminary, $21,257 for a total of $39,030; and Don Bosco College, $3,000 for a total of $5,122.

In a separate allocation, Mercer County Community College will receive $15,617 for student nursing scholarships and $16,184 for student nursing loans from the Public Health Service for the coming school year.

ARE REALTORS LAWYERS? Can They Prepare Contracts? A lawsuit expected to attract wide interest has been filed in New Jersey Superior Court in Trenton through the cooperation of the New Jersey State Bar Association and the New Jersey Association of Realtor Boards, to determine the extent to which real estate brokers and salesmen may prepare documents incident to transactions where they are brokers.

The suit, filed by the Bar Association against the Association of Realtor Boards and nine realtors, who have volunteered as defendants, seeks a declaratory judgment that the preparation of contracts of sale by all real estate brokers and salesmen constitutes the unauthorized practice of law, and should be restrained.

The litigation results from a suggestion made by the New Jersey Supreme Court in a 1970 case, State v. Bander. Although in that case, the Supreme Court held that a broker who draws real estate contracts is not guilty of disorderly conduct, it did not eliminate the possibility that such conduct might constitute the unauthorized practice of law, and suggested that a test case be brought to enable it to determine what regulation, if any might be needed to protect the public interest.

Since real estate transactions constitute the most important investment which most people make, the Bar Association alleges that they often suffer when poorly drawn contracts irrevocably affect their rights and obligations.

Are Brokers Qualified? The Bar Association requests that the Court look into the matter and consider whether brokers should be prohibited from advising the public about legal matters for which they many not be qualified by training, or in which they are not subject to supervision by the Court. The Bar Association sugests that, at the very least contracts prepared by brokers be subject to revision when legal counsel for the parties find the terms may be injurious to their interest.

Realtors claim that the preparation of a sales contract is essential to their business, that they have always been permitted to draw such agreements, and that they are adequately trained for it being subject to the supervision of the New Jersey Real Estate Commission. Robert F. Ferguson, Jr., Executive Vice President of the Association of Realtor Boards, said of the suit, "The inference to be drawn from the Bar Association's position is that they would like to have a lawyer review every single real estate transaction. This would be cumbersome, time-consuming, and expensive." Mr. Ferguson also points out that brokers are not prohibited from drawing such contracts in other states.

"Although the two Associations seek opposite results," said Joseph T. Grause, Red Bank, President of the 8,000 member New Jersey State Bar Association, "they are agreed that the decision of the Court should be based upon the interest of the public and not upon the rights of their members to perform the challenged service."

MANAGER NAMED

At American Express. Daniel H. Kahn has been appointed to the position of manager for the American Express Company Travel Center in Princeton. He was previously manager for the Travel Center in Greenwich, Conn.

The 27-year old Rider College graduate also holds an M.A. in business administration from the City College of New York. Mr. Kahn joined American Express in 1969 after serving with the Army's military police in Vietnam.

FIRM CUTS LOSS

But Plans Reverse Split. Applied Logic Corporation has announced unaudited financial results for the nine months ending June 30, 1971. Gross revenues amounted to $1, 936,511, with a net loss of $1,867,638 or $.09 per share. Loss for the comparable period in 1970 was $2.15 per share.

Robert L. Geddes

The company reports that revenues have shown a positive trend, while the monthly cost and expense levels have been sharply reduced during the current fiscal year. As a result, Applied Logic announced that it has reached an understanding with its major creditors with respect to a major portion of its outstanding obligations and that it expects to finalize a formal agreement within a few weeks. Such agreement would provide a marked improvement in the company's financial position.

The company also announced that its board of directors has recommended a one-for-five reverse stock split subject to approval by shareholders. Further details will be announced at a special shareholders meeting which will be held shortly after formalization of the new agreement and completion of the necessary preparation for such meeting.

Applied Logic Corporation distributes AL/COM interactive computer time-sharing through a nationwide communications network. Customers have access via teletypewriters and telephone lines to the company's Dual AL-10 systems in its Princeton computer center. The Company's securities are traded over the counter.

LAND PLANNERS NAMED

For Colorado Project. Robert L. Geddes, dean of the school of architecture and urban planning at Princeton University, has been named director of planning for land-uses and physical developments of Johns-Manville Corporation's Ken-Caryl ranch near Denver, Colo.

Mr. Geddes, whose partners in the firm Geddes-Brecher-Qualls-Cunningham of Philadelphia and Princeton are in charge of the master plan for the 10,000-acre ranch, also serves as a member of the board of directors of Johns-Manville.

The plan will involve a selected mix of land uses, including residential and recreational facilities, in a new campus-style office complex. Respect for the environment and its protection are also key guiding factors in the construction, which will eventually be the eprmanent Johns-Manville headquarters.

QUESTION: Is the Superintendent eliminating "frills" from the budget, or have items like the trip to California for the staff of the Wednesday Program BECOME NECESSITIES?

QUESTION: If we didn't HAVE any money for Driver's Education in MAY, WHERE did Dr. McPherson FIND IT in JUNE?

QUESTION: Since the School Board Majority was obviously satisfied to rubber stamp Dr. McPherson's "candidate" for the job of PHS Principal, WHY did the Administration go to the EXPENSE of recruiting 165 applicants?

FACT: We have established salary scales for all full time staff.

QUESTION: What is the salary formula or RATIONALE for determining salaries paid to part-time staff?

FACT: In the last 3-4 years, our "innovative" programs have included: the Communications Center at PHS, Multi-age classes at MS and JW, British Infant Techniques at RS and JW, Play-therapy groups at JW, the Wednesday Program, — and now, the Learning Community at PHS!

QUESTION: Are we EDUCATING our children or setting up pseudotherapeutic programs — with SCHOOL FUNDS?

QUESTION: While we're "experimenting" so VIGOROUSLY, WHAT are we doing to help students like the 108 at PHS who read far below the national average? — BELOW THE 25th PERCENTILE!

QUESTION: How long will we continue to provide funds for these "experiments" without KNOWING their effectiveness?

FACT: There was a recent proposal to institute an IN-SERVICE TRAINING PROGRAM for new, inexperienced teachers. The program could cost between $5,000 and $15,000 a year!

QUESTION: Might this proposal (the vote was NOT ON A REAL PLAN) be used as an instrument to mold teachers to a PARTICULAR VIEW of education?

QUESTION: Isn't there room in the Princeton school system for more than ONE educational view?

FACT: As an ECONOMY move, we recently abolished the position of Special Assistant to the Superintendent for Physical Education, Health and Safety Programs. The same staff person was then given TWO JOB TITLES.

QUESTION: Since his working year was REDUCED from 12 months to 10 months but his salary only dropped $250.00, won't this economy ACTUALLY COST MORE a year?

FORMULA WITH MAKE-BELIEVE FIGURES:

$18,000 for a 12 month working year — $1500 a month

$18,000 (—250) for a 10 month working year — $1775 a month

FACT: A couple of years ago we coordinated and CENTRALIZED all our schools' library services for greater efficiency and economy.

FACT: Without any EVALUATION of the centralized services, we are now going to DEcentralize library services BACK to the individual school libraries!

QUESTION: Whose idea was THAT "economy?"

FACT: We have an 11 man staff in our CENTRALIZED Business Office to handle finances for all our schools.

FACT: Dr. McPherson has a proposal before the School Board which will make each individual responsible for keeping its own financial accounts.

QUESTION: If we DEcentralize budget control to individual schools, what will it cost to have someone in EACH building "keeping accounts?"

QUESTION: How much of this centralizing-decentralizing of services is going on our school system? WHY? At what cost?

FACT: Mrs. Vieland, Coordinator of Staff Development and one of Dr. McPherson's Trusted Advisors, has had 6 different job titles in 6 years!

QUESTION: Was her rapid advancement based on EVALUATIONS? Written? WHO did them?

"What next will you be up to?", the Parents said to me.

"I don't really know myself. We'll have to wait and see!"

FACT: For "economy's sake" the School Board Majority voted to eliminate the position of Director of Guidance at PHS this coming year. As a replacement, it was proposed that "a position of Department Chairman BE CREATED" and a "head counsellor position WOULD BE ESTABLISHED."

FACT: Current salary of present Director of Guidance: $20,250. CONSERVATIVE estimate of the salaries for the TWO NEW positions: BASE PAY of $15,600 EACH. TOTAL: $31,200!

QUESTION: Economy or MANeuvering?

NATIONALS NEXT

For Jane Fremon. A second place finish timed in 1:02.1 in the 100-meter freestyle race at the Eastern Seaboard Swimming Championships at Lancaster, Pa. has qualified Jane Fremon for the National Championships at Houston, Texas, August 25-29.

Miss Fremon will also swim in three relays at the National Championships, the 400 and 800 freestyle and the 400 medley. The teams will be made up of swimmers from central New Jersey. Her coach is Bill Farley, Princeton University swimming coach.

Hector, a sophomore at Peddie School, qualified for the consolation finals in the 100 breaststroke, and swam the race in 1:16.6. His time for the 200 breaststroke was 2:51.

Bolster, a sophomore at Princeton High School, also swam in the 100 and 200 meter breaststroke races. His times were 1:19.6 and 2:57.

Maura Dorgan, another PHS student, swam a good 1500-meter freestyle. Her time was 21:09.

NO. ONE PAIR WINS

In YMCA Mixed Doubles. Nina Moyer and Stuart Carothers, the No. 1 seed, in the YMCA Mixed Doubles tournament, equalled their top billing last week, winning the title with little trouble.

In the finals, the pair whipped Linda Corlette and Bill Humes, the No. 2 seeded team, 6-2, 6-3. Earlier in the semi-finals, they defeated Peg and Bob Warner, 6-2, 6-2. Mrs. Corlette and Humes had beaten Dottie and Martin Katz, the No 3 seed, 6-2, 8-6.

The women's doubles championship was won by Janet de Grouchy and Joan Oberman, who beat Nancy Sabo and From Potkay of the Parkview Tennis Club, 6-3, 7-6.

In the six adult tournaments conducted this year, more than 350 people participated, and the YMCA expresses its appreciation for the success of the program to John Bauman, chairman of the Princeton Community Tennis Assn., and his assistants, Julie White, Mrs. Corlette and Betty Lapidus.

FIRST PLACE REGAINED

By Teague & Hinds. Defeating their closest rival, Ivy Inn, by a 7-6 score last week and then watching Country Squire top the Ivies, 7-5, Teague & Hinds has moved back into first place in the Princeton Softball League.

A three-run homer by Bucky Melvin won for the Icemen in their game with Ivy Inn. A similar run-producing clout by L. C. Turner of Country Squire unfurled in the last of the sixth, made the difference in its game with the Ivies. Teague's had a bye Monday night and now holds first place by half a game, with two contests still to play.

Conte's bar held third place in the standings, defeating Country Squire, 12-4, and Varsity Sport Shop, 16-4. In the first game, Bill McQuade contributed four hits; against Varsity Sport, Jack Roberts and Dick Fowler weighed in with four hits apiece. Fowler, the winning pitcher, crossed the plate three times.

Varsity Sport topped Grover's Hustlers, 7 to 3, as winning pitcher Floyd Phox homered. Hank Pecket's three hits paced the losers. In other action, Nassau-Conover Motors edged the Hustlers, 3 to 2, Bryce Chase of the victors hitting a single and double. Tom Brophy was the winning pitcher.

The standings:

	W.	L.	Pct.
T'ue-Hinds	13	3	.813
Ivy Inn	13	4	.765
Conte's	11	6	.647
C'try Squire	6	10	.375
Varsity	6	10	.375
N'sau Con.	5	11	.313

FUNDS BADLY NEEDED

By Tennis Foundation. An intensive fund raising drive is now being conducted by the Youth Tennis Foundation to help send a team to Georgia as well as to underwrite the growing costs of providing instruction and tournament opportunity for advanced players on a year around basis and to be able to take care of the increased number of young beginners who are now on full or partial scholarship.

As the summer classes draw to a close, there is not enough funds in the Foundation to meet the scholarship costs. In addition the unexpected opportunity to send a team to Atlanta for a week caused a sudden financial crisis and a necessity for an emergency fund raising campaign.

The Princeton Community Tennis Program reaches almost 2,000 boys, girls, men and women a year as well as providing employment opportunity for over 10 instructors. Many of these young junior high, high school and college students receive outstanding training and job opportunities.

The Program which, up to recently, has been almost totally self-sufficient from the low fees charged for classes, as well as the number of volunteer helpers, receives no public tax or Community Fund monies.

But it operates at a growing deficit each year as the number of scholarship students increase, the cost of instruction and clerical help goes up and new opportunities arise as the Atlanta trip. Looking forward to winter months, funding the high cost of increased indoor classes is going to cause another drain on the already tight budget.

In addition to the indoor courts already in the area, the new bubble now going up at the Community Park School will have two indoor tennis courts marker on its surface, and the new Tennis Center planned at the Princeton Swim Club site on Washington Road will have six courts, both of which facilities will be featuring increased training and playing opportunities for juniors.

Additional scholarship funds will also, therefore, be needed so that everyone will be able to participate in the growing winter program regardless of ability to pay.

Contributions, which are tax deductible, should be made out to the Youth Tennis Foundation of Princeton and Mailed to: Mr. L. V. Silvester, Jr., Treasurer, Princeton Bank & Trust Company, Princeton, New Jersey. 08540.

THEIR TEAM'S IN THE RACE: Outfielder Bill Bartolino and Tony "Bucky" Boccanfuso, who alternates between outfield and catcher, are helping to keep Ivy Inn near the top in the Princeton Softball League.

WINNERS LISTED

In Springdale Golf. A net of 59 took first place in the Women's Member-Guest 18-hole tournament at Springdale Golf Club. Members of the victorious foursome were Anne Love, Marge Knapp, Jennifer Waters and Jane Bonthron.

A member-Guest Better Ball of Partners Tournament was held Sunday. The low gross of 76 was recorded by Sue Blair and the club champion, Kester Pierson. The low net of 65 was credited to Sybil Parnes and Dick Schoch.

Business In Princeton

BUSINESS AID SOUGHT

In New Congressional Bill. Congressman Frank Thompson, Jr. (D-NJ) has introduced the Small Business Tax Simplification and Reform Act of 1971, a bill which would amend the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 to provide income tax simplification, reform, and relief for small businessmen.

Describing the legislation, Mr. Thompson stated that the measure would "enable the small businessman to plow back some profits to permit expansion, growth and create more jobs, as well as providing a climate favorable to the birth of new business."

The bill recommends 40 substantive and administrative changes in the tax law, including the simplification of regulations through a permanent intergovernmental committee working with a businessman's advisory council to view tax proposals from a small business-free enterprise standpoint; a three-year Federal tax exemption for new industrial-commercial small business; greater freedom for growing businesses to accumulate income for expansion purposes; liberalization of some partnership rules; and reform of several sections to strengthen small business's ability to attract venture capital.

Mr. Thompson spoke of the need for extensive reform in this area, saying, "The small business community was bypassed by the 1969 Tax Reform Act although small businesses are one of the most important segments of our economy. They account for 98 per cent of all firms, contribute at least 40 per cent of all jobs and approximately one-third of the Gross National Product. Tax reform for small businesses is long overdue."

TWO MANAGERS NAMED

For Sales at Mettler. Mettler Instrument Corporation this week announced the promotion of two of its executives.

Mr. Hoehn received his M.S. in mechanical engineering from Drexel Institute of Technology after completing his undergraduate studies at the Institute of Technology, Ilmenau, Germany. He joined Mettler in 1962 as a sales representative for electronic products. Mr. Miller, a graduate of Indiana Institute of Technology, has been associated with Mettler in a sales capacity since 1960.

95% in Mercer County Favor Vietnam Withdrawal

A sharp escalation of sentiment against the Vietnam War emerged as one of the principal results of his 1971 Legislative Questionnaire, Rep. Frank Thompson, Jr. announced this week. A representative sampling of more than 9,000 returns resulted, Mr. Thompson said, in a district-wide expression of 94% in favor of withdrawal of all American combat forces from Vietnam.

A similar question in Rep. Thompson's 1970 Questionnaire brought an anti-war withdrawal expression in 53% of the returns from the Fourth Congressional District, which comprises Mercer, Hunterdon, Warren and Sussex Counties.

Even more significant in this year's returns, Mr. Thompson said, was the response to a second question seeking constituent sentiment on leaving residual "support" forces in Vietnam after withdrawal of America combat troops. A plurality of 64% oppose such a policy.

Although the overwhelming sentiment is for withdrawal of all American combat troops from Vietnam, sentiment is divided as to the speed with which this should be accomplished. Almost one third of the respondees (31%) want our troops out "immediately." Another 24% want them out by the end of this year; and another nine per cent said they want our troops withdrawn, but with no specific deadline. This is the position expressed by the Administration.

"I can't say the anti-war sentiment came as a surprise," Mr. Thompson said, "but I did not expect the sentiment to be as overwhelming and as uniform throughout the District." Withdrawal sentiment was 95% in Mercer and Warren counties; 90% in Hunterdon and 80% in Sussex.

Congressman Thompson, a consistent opponent of our participation in the Vietnam War, has co-sponsored resolutions to bring all American forces out by December 31, 1971.

4-H SHOW TO BE HELD

Next Friday and Saturday. The 1971 Mercer County 4-H and Farmers' Show is planned for this Friday and Saturday, August 13 and 14, at the Coliseum Building, New Jersey State Fairground on Nottingham Way, Trenton.

The Show will involve many phases of 4-H activities which stress improvement and service for homes, farms, and community. Besides displays of popular projects, various contests and activities will be included.

4-H young people from ages 9-19 will present examples of their enterprises in individual clubs featuring clothing construction, preparation and canning foods, vegetable growing, raising dogs, horses, cattle, sheep, honey bees, furniture building, oil painting and other art objects.

Animal exhibitions for cattle and sheep will be held Friday morning and afternoon. Also part of the animal scene will be a pet rodent display, a horse and dog show, and a peep show of the hatching of baby chicks.

One of the main attractions of the two-day event will be the crowning of "Miss Mercer County Fair" Queen, at 8 p.m. Friday, and the 4-H Fashion Revue 8 p.m. Saturday.

Contestants include Miss Nina Dimitruk of Princeton Junction, representing the Edinburg Merry Makers; Miss Wendy Wyckoff of Ewingville, representing the Silver Lining Club; Miss Holly Eddinger of Princeton Junction, representing the West Windsor Wise Wizards; and Miss Gail Klink of Mercerville, representing the Four-Leaf Clover Club.

Many other features of the fair include a puppet show, a skill-driving contest, color films, flower arrangement contests, all climaxed by a door prize drawing for a 26" bicycle on Saturday.

WATER FROM SEAWEED?

Professor Tests Idea. Collecting seaweed may seem an unlikely pastime for an engineer, but that is just what Prof. Wolf Vieth of the Rutgers College of Engineering is likely to do when he visits the Jersey shore.

Dr. Vieth, 45 Partridge Run, Belle Mead, is studying ways to get fresh water from aquatic plants.

A professor in the department of chemical and biochemical engineering, he hopes to expand his studies into a research project to determine the practicality of recovering fresh water from New Jersey's salt marshes.

Seaweed, Dr. Vieth explains, notably a type called laminaria digitata, has been found to be capable of rejecting sodium by means of its own life processes. It does, however, concentrate a relatively large amount of potassium in the water it retains in its structure.

Making Water Potable. In order to be potable, the water must be separated from the potassium. Dr. Vieth proposes to do this by a process of "perspaporation," essentially heating the plant, evaporating, cooling and condensing the water.

The plant could then be used, he says, as a potential food source or a source of potassium, a valuable mineral.

"I suppose what I am suggesting is a kind of hydroponic farming with water purification and recovering as a new by-product feature," he says. Such farming may be described as growing plants in a liquid solution without soil.

"Farming the sea is not a novel idea," Dr. Vieth readily notes, "but I think my research can make a contribution to the water recovery aspect."

Reverse Osmosis. Dr. Vieth's idea is an outgrowth of almost seven years of studying the demineralization and desalination of sea water using a technique of reverse osmosis, essentially passing solutions through membranes under different pressures.

During the course of the research, the professor found that natural membrane substances, such as cell walls of seaweed, did not hold up as well as synthetics such as cellulosics. They tended to develop flaws and cracks when subjected to various pressures in the laboratory.

"Apparently," he notes, "nature designed it to operate with balanced hydrostatic pressures." In other words, under natural conditions the seaweed "worked" perfectly.

With this in mind, Dr. Vieth says he intends to take advantage of the plant's natural functions by letting it work for him. By its natural rejection of sodium, Dr. Vieth notes, the plant has already taken care of one separation process.

He proposes to grow suitably chosen aquatic plants on a laboratory or pilot scale to simulate salt marsh conditions and then develop and perfect ways to get the fresh water out.

The engineer hopes to consult with other scientists, such as botanists, to determine what types of aquatic plants are most suited to freshwater recovery, particularly those that might reject both potassium and sodium by their natural processes.

Obituaries

Gaye E. Konover, 23, of 13 Patton Avenue, died August 10 in Krouse-Irving Memorial Hospital, Syracuse, N. Y., after a brief illness. She was the daughter of Mrs. Josephine D. Konover and the late Wesley A Konover.

Born in Trenton, Miss Konover was the first sightless student known to have gone through the Princeton public school system. An honors graduate of Princeton High School in 1965, she attended Gettysburg College and was graduated cum laude from the University of Michigan with a bachelor of music degree. At the time of her death, she was completing work in the master's program at the School of Social Work at Syracuse University.

During her school years in Princeton, Miss Konover took leading roles in the school plays, studied the piano, clarinet, violin, guitar and voice. She attended school dances, sang in the Witherspoon School glee club and the high school and First Presbyterian Church choirs. She toured Europe with the PHS choir, returning to tell her French teacher, "Paris is as beautiful as we saw it in class."

She received The American Legion Award at Witherspoon graduation, Latin awards and school honors at PHS. The Soroptimist Club gave her its citizenship award and she was runner-up among 53 entrants for the Soroptimists' Northeast Atlantic Region Award.

She worked for Recording for the Blind, served on the Youth Fellowship Council at her church and at Christmas often took her guitar to the Neuro-Psychiatric Institute where she entertained the patients with folk songs.

Miss Konover was a past worthy advisor of Mary Ellen Assembly 61, Order of Rainbow Girls, and a past grand soloist of the grand assembly of the state group. She was a member of Princeton Chapter 91, OES; a past member of the Mercer County Board of the American Cancer Society and a former member of the advisory board of the Seeing Eye Foundation.

During her years in Princeton schools, none of her teachers had special training in teaching the blind, from Princeton Nursery School on up through the high school. "What the schools did for Gaye, is nothing compared to what Gaye did for us," a teacher said on her graduation.

In addition to her mother, she is survived by a sister Miss Barbara Gonover of Philadelphia, and her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Josephine R. Dennis of Princeton.

The service was held in First Presbyterian Church, the Rev. Mac C. Wells officiating. Interment was at the convenience of the family. Arrangements were made by the Mather Funeral Home.

Memorial gifts may be sent to Princeton Nursery School, 76 Leigh Avenue, or to the New Jersey Commission for the Blind, 1100 Raymond Boulevard, Newark 07102.

Samuel C. Brown, 48, of 31 Hodge Road, died August 4 at his home after a lengthy illness. He was former vice-president of Northern Trust International Company of Chicago.

Born in Pawtucket, R.I., Mr. Brown was graduated from The Choate School and Princeton University. Originally a member of the Princeton Class of 1946, his education was interrupted in February 1942 by military service with the Army. After training at the Specialist School at Camp Ritchie, he took part in the invasions of the Philippines and Okinawa and served in Korea. He completed his degree in 1948.

Gaye E. Konover
(From a picture taken when she was a senior in Princeton High School six years ago.)

He attended Georgetown University Graduate School of Political Science for two years, being called to service with the State Department. He successively served in Germany, Switzerland and at the U.S. Residency at Hanoi. Returning to the United States to enter business, he became a vice-president of the Bank of America in New York and in 1968 moved to Northern Trust Company of Chicago where he was in charge of its New York office. He retired in 1970 due to ill health.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Nancy B. Brown; a daughter, Holly; his mother, Mrs. Stuart D. Brown of East Providence, R.I., and a sister, Mrs. B. Phillip Foster of St. Louis, Mo.

The funeral service and interment were private.

Mrs. Frances N. Smith, 77, of 79 Bayard Lane, died August 3 in the Merwick unit of Princeton Hospital. A native of Baltimore, she was the widow of Robert E. Smith Jr.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Burton Ford of Princeton and Mrs. Moorhead Tukey of LaJolla, Calif.; a son, Robert E. Smith 3d of Florence, S.C.; 10 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Graveside service was held in Druid Ridge Cemetery, Baltimore, under direction of the Mather Funeral Home.

Mrs. Edith H. Drake, 49, of 74 Titus Avenue, Lawrenceville, died August 4 in New York Hospital. She was the wife of Lewis S. Drake.

A graduate of Princeton High School in 1939, she was a member of Lawrenceville Presbyterian Church and Lawrenceville Grange 170.

Also surviving are two sons, Lewis G. and Fred R., both of Lawrenceville; a brother, Richard Hocking of Lawrenceville, and a granddaughter.

The service was held in the Mather Funeral Home, the Rev. H. Dana Fearon officiating. Interment was in the Lawrenceville Cemetery. Memorial gifts may be sent to the Leukemia Society of America.

George F. Branham, 65, of 47 South Main Street, Pennington, died August 4 in St. Francis Hospital, Trenton. He was a retired crane operator.

Born in Virginia, Mr. Branham lived in the Pennington area during most of his life.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Molly Branham; two daughters, Mrs. Francis Grover of Ringoes and Mrs. Jack Smith Jr. of Titusville; a step-daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Harding of Pennington; a stepson, Lloyd Johns of Hopewell; 11 grandchildren; four sisters, Mrs. Mack Hicks of Ewing Township, Mrs. Theodore Johns of Hopewell Township, Mrs. Clarence Welsh of Pennington and Mrs. Jonas Lear of Trenton, and five brothers, Aubrey, Jesse and Roy Branham of Hopewell, Harry Branham of Virginia and Lonnie Branham of Trenton.

News Of The CHURCHES

MIGRANT DINNERS START

Three Groups Are Sponsors. Last year's successful fellowship-and-recreation programs for migrant workers began again last Sunday, under the co-sponsorship of the Princeton Intedfaith Council, Family Service Agency and the YW-YMCA.

About 10 migrants are expected each week. Christ Congregation and Kingston Presbyterian Church are in charge of dinner and transportation. The program is held at the YW-YMOA from 3 to 8 and includes swimming, movies, games and crafts, with George Holmes of the Y as leader. Family Service provides maps to guide the drivers to the farms where the migrants are staying.

Churches who will be involved this year are the Princeton Presbyterian Churches, August 15; St. Paul's Catholic Church, August 22; All Saints' Church, September 12; Princeton Methodist, September 19, and Trinity Episcopal Church, September 26. There will be no gatherings on August 29 and September 5.

Among the planners are Philip S. Carchman, chairman of the Interfaith Council's community concerns committee; Seymour Plawsky and William Rhodes of Family Service.

YOUTH TO LEAD SERVICE

At Prince of Peace. The college youth of Prince of Peace Lutheran Church will lead this Sunday's worship service, an annual event that the congregation anticipates with pleasure.

Steve Nuding, a sophomore at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, will preach the sermon and lead the closing portion of the service. His brother, Tim, Nuding, a freshman at Swarthmore College, will open the service. Three scripture lessons will be read by Sharon Midland, a freshman at Wagner College. Ron Aldridge, who enters Yale University this fall, will provide the musical background.

Prince of Peace Lutheran Church meets at 9 a.m. on Sundays in the Maurice Hawk School, Clarksville Road.

BUS TRIP SCHEDULED

By First Baptists. A bus trip to Sterling Forest Garden Park, Tuxedo, N.Y., is planned for Saturday, August 21, by the used clothing committee for the First Baptist Church. Deacon Carl E. Brown Sr. is chairman.

The park, located about one hour's drive from New York City, contains acres of beautiful gardens, activities for young and old, a porpoise show, a Raggedy Ann and Andy Theatre, fishing, picnic area, restaurants and a tavern. COOL AND RELAXING

Yes, a house can be; particularly when its setting is brook bordered and its verdant lawn studded with mature trees. Cool too, when you are but a short walk from the beckoning shores of Lake Carnegie.

Relaxing, certainly, when you occupy an easy living, easy keeping one story 3 bedroom rambler which has a brand new kitchen and new decorating. You'll also relax when you learn that the move-in condition can be converted to early possession.

$59,500

PRINCETON TOWNSHIP VALUE

Live in our Township's attractive country-side at a most quieting cost. This substantial two story has loads of usable space: living room with fireplace, a paneled study and separate dining room. There are three bedrooms and vast but easily accessible storage areas in the third floor attic and the full basement. A most welcome purchasing opportunity. $31,000

WHAT YOU DON'T SEE MATTERS —

so come into the inviting foyer of this "climate controlled" nine room (4 bedroom-2½ bath) Colonial.

You'll note that the living room is brightened by a classic front bay window and accented by a brick-faced fireplace; that the dining room, which is on the opposite side of the front foyer, will accomodate your family and friends most festively; that the bright and shiny kitchen will make meal preparation easy and the results inspired — sometimes.

Sense the friendly informality of the family room and the useful flexibility of the den-study which converts to a fifth (1st floor) bedroom.

Upstairs there are four bedrooms, two baths, and bounteous storage space.

Come see and save in one of West Windsor's most interesting and attractive neighborhoods.

WHERE . . .
WHERE ELSE . . .

But at Country Antiques can you find . . .

An early gate leg table, very narrow center, with drop leaves (possibly a "Tuckaway"); delicate, yet sturdy.

Child's so called "ice cream" table and 2 matching chairs, for sizes 2-5.

A pair of Shaker ladder back arm chairs and a Brown and Phares ladder back from Mt. Holly.

An EXCITING FIND . . . (Still being researched by several customer friends) — a small home made book full of paper cuttings. Could they be Pennsylvania or Chinese? The motifs seem to include Phoenix birds, urns, "shortish" horses, Chinese maize, etc. They seem too sophisticated for Pennsylvania.

Tablespoons, dessert and a master salt spoon by R & W Wilson.

Remember the friendship squares we once had 1823— 4 similar ones, also signed in ancient spidery handwriting by several well known N. J. names, Throckmorton, Edwards, Patterson, etc.

Very old chintz appliqued to unbleached muslin with Penn. motif. Also, the complete makings of several quilts with priceless old fabrics and tiny quaint patterns.

A banjo ukelele and a French trombone, both of excellent quality — old, mellow and in original cases.

The Blame Is Ours

"This is all TOWN TOPICS' fault," the young man declared, as he placed an ad for free kittens.

"Last year," he said, "I answered a TOWN TOPICS ad for offering free kittens, couldn't decide which was the most appealing, and wound up taking all three. They were all females, and now they're all mothers."

So nature took its course, just as many people find it's a way of life to use TOWN TOPICS' ads. They often get the most amazing results — for a base price of only $1.25 for the first 20 words. Just call 924-2200 from 9 to 5 weekdays; if you need assistance on wording the ad, it's there for the asking.

The pot of the Twelve Caesars

"Let them stew in their own juices," said Julius, and the Roman pot was invented. Meat, fish or fowl — together with their own vegetables — were baked without fat or water in these porous clay vessels.

Few of us are old enough to remember the full natural flavor that resulted.

Now the original Roman pot — or Roemertopf, as we call it — is again available. At The Blank Cheque, naturally. There are four sizes in terra cotta for meat and fowl, and a white one for fish. All are handsome enough for table or museum.

A. Terra cotta, with center handle, for roast or 3-4 pound chicken $10.00

B. Same as above, but with side handles instead of center handle $10.00

C. Terra cotta, with center handle, for larger roast or 4-5 pound chicken $13.50

D. White, with side handles for fish $15.00

E. Terra cotta, with side handles for enormous roast or 12-14 pound turkey $19.50

Harry's Brook Rechanneling Stirs Controversy

Friends of the Princeton Environment, Inc., have raised a series of questions about the proposal to rechannel a section of Harry's Brook — an uncertain but pretty little rivelet that crosses the Township and empties into Lake Carnegie near the sailing dock.

The idea is to rechannel the section between Meadowbrook Drive and Snowden Lane at an estimated cost of $12,000. A similar dredging action was carried out in 1968 with "unfortunate erosion, silting and other problems arising downstream" claims the Friends' statement to Township Committee, signed by Chairman Edwin C. Hutter.

More than 50 property owners whose land is crossed or bordered by the brook met with the Friends' executive committee on July 8 and adopted the statement including nine questions they want answered.

David Rabr of the Friends was told by Township Administrator Joseph R. Nini at the Township Committee meeting in July that the Conservation Commission would talk the Harry's Brook matter over with Township Engineer Joseph Hodak as information becomes available.

Nearly a year ago, in September 1970, Mr. Hodak was urged by phone and letter from Ian Walker of the Stony Brook-Millstone Watershed Association to take advantage of the erosion control designs of the Soil Conservation Service, which acts through the Mercer County Soil Conservation District.

On June 15 of this year, Mr. Hodak informed Mr. Walker that the proposed plans were being sent to the Soil Conservation Service for "comments and recommendations."

HARRY'S BROOK: The water was ankle-deep, flowing swiftly and cleanly after the week of rain. Named, according to local legend, after a small boy named Harry whose father had to fish him out one day, the brook may be rechanneled between Snowden Lane and Meadowbrook Drive. The picture shows the old, grass-covered, stone-faced footbridge with the newer County bridge on Snowden Lane in the rear.

Reasons for Rechanneling. Reasons for the proposed rechanneling of Harry's Brook were cited by Mr. Walker at the property owners' meeting: 1) a resident is having problems with erosion and potentially severe flooding of his house by the brook where it curves near the house. "His problem was apparently made much worse by earlier rechanneling and deepening of Harry's Brook upstream to solve a similar problem for another property owner," The Friends' statement notes.

2) Another resident is bothered by occasional minor erosion and flooding of low-lying portions of his lawn. The major length of the brook, Mr. Walker said, seems in a healthy, stable, well-vegetated condition.

"It is not our intention to depreciate the problems of the property owners mentioned above," the Friends' statement commented. "We certainly will support efforts by the Township to prevent damage to their property, but we urge that no ordinance be introduced until the appropriate quantitative data (including the advice of the Soil Conservation Service) are available and evaluated, alternatives carefully explored and the cost-benefits to the Township and all of the property owners along the Brook are assessed."

Mr. Hodak added another reason for the re-channeling — the potential run-off into Harry's Brook from the Princeton Community Housing Project to be built between Mt. Lucas Road and Terhune Road. The Friends counter that storm run-off control is included in the preliminary PCH plans, verified by Mr. Walker who reviewed the site with PCH representatives.

Many Questions Unanswered. The Friends are asking why, specifically, has the rechanneling been proposed; who will benefit; whether possible damage during and after the work has been assessed; how much legal obligation will the Township have to correct future damage stemming from rechanneling; what are total anticipated costs; has a flood profile been prepared for the whole brook; have the alternatives to rechanneling been explored; will Soil Conservation criteria for channelization be met if rechanneling is found necessary, and whether rechanneling is contemplated elsewhere along Harry's Brook or other Township streams.

Thomas Tams, assistant Township engineer, said last week the Harry's Brook matter is "in limbo until we hear from the state bureau of water control, in the Conservation Department." He added that the state, which would issue a permit to rechannel, has a three-or-four months backlog.

The Soil Conservation Service recommendations have been received, and will be studied. "They feel they need more information."

The Friends of the Princeton Environment, told to keep in touch with the Township's Conservation Commission, are waiting for the September meeting.

12, at 148 Library Place, the home of former Players president Shirley Kauffman. Anyone interested in theatre is invited to attend.

New members and old will discuss the specifics for the season's four planned productions, only one of which has been announced so far. "A Thousand Clowns" will be presented in February under the direction of Ed Spiegel, Players member and a program director for a Trenton radio station.

Membership Vice-President for the Players Lalor Cadley, has issued a call for volunteers to help with food and drink preparations for the September 12th party. Miss Cadley can be reached during week days at Princeton University Press where she is managing editor. The phone is 452-5934. Other recently-elected executive committee members are Brock Putnam, Vice-President for Production; Mike McGrath, Treasurer; Cynthia Ward, Secretary; and Alice McGrath, Vice-President for Publicity.

LAST PERFORMANCES SET For "Uncle Vanya". The last productions of Summer In time's "Uncle Vanya" closing out its fourth summer season, are scheduled for this Thursday through Saturday at 8:30 p.m. and Sunday at 7:30 p.m. in the Hamilton Murray Theatre on the University campus.

Written by Anton Chekhov in 1896, the play takes place on a country estate in Russia where the household members vent their boredom on each other in feuds, and fights and attempted murder.

Reservations or further information may be obtained by calling the SI box office at 452-8181.

PRINCE

The Love Machine (now playing), based on the novel by Jacqueline Susann, is the story of a TV newscaster named Robin Stone who works his way up and nearly takes over the company. The guys and dolls of the entertainment jungle are all there: Maggie the girl who loves him, the beautiful model Amanda, his boss — and his boss's wife, and his best friend and various ladies of the evening.

John Phillip Law has the lead role. Robert Ryan, Jackie Cooper, Dyan Cannon, David Hemmings and Jodi Wexler support. The cast is accomplished, the plot wild, but the spark of the novel is lacking.

GARDEN

Klute (now playing) is a tense thriller about a small town cop (Donald Sutherland) who searches the big city for his missing friend, vanished six months ago from his job with a large company.

His lead is to an expensive call girl (Jane Fonda). Her problems include obscene letters and mysterious phone calls from an unknown person. The growing relationship between the policeman and the prostie is a gem of off-beat characterization.

at antiques.

There are two ways of getting the antiques you've always wanted: find them or make them. Our way is to make them. For several reasons. We can concentrate on museum-quality pieces. We can coordinate them with upholstered pieces and hand-crafted accessories. And we can create custom pieces to match your particular dream. (Thomas Jefferson didn't own a stereo. But you can own one that he'd like the looks of.) We've filled a showroom with creations and re-creations you'd like.

Jane Fonda, who really takes over the film, gives a fine performance as a girl trying to break out of her old profession into modeling or acting or something else. Sutherland is tight-lipped and low key throughout the film. Director Alan Pakula has made a well-crafted film.

"FIDDLER" TO PLAY

At Clinton Summer Theatre. The much-acclaimed musical "Fiddler on the Roof", still running on Broadway, will be presented this Thursday through Saturday at 8:30 p.m. and at 7:30 p.m. Sunday at the Clinton Summer Theatre.

Based on a book by Joseph Stein, the play tells the story of life in Anatevka, a little Russian village in 1909. While it focuses on Tevye, the dairy man, it really looks in general at the life of the Russian Jews at that time.

Ira Rappaport, a theatre student at Queens College, will be playing Tevye. Harris Goldman has been directing the production along with choreographing by Randee Brenner, a drama student at Ithaca College.

Tickets may be reserved by calling the box office at (201) 735-5625, or by coming to the theatre located on 23 West Main Street, Clinton.

HELPING HANDS FROM SCOTLAND: The Princeton Chapter of the American Red Cross benefitted from a visit here by two eager Scottish girls. Sponsored by the English Speaking Union, Mary Mercer, left, and Susan Cassidy, both from Dunfermline Fife in Scotland enjoyed a three-week stay in this country along with nearly 80 more foreign friends engaged in volunteer social work in the area. RED CROSS HERE AIDED

By Two Scottish Girls. If the voice which took your call to the Princeton Chapter of the American Red Cross answered in a quick Scottish brogue, you were probably speaking to Mary Mercer or her co-worker Susan Cassidy, two Scottish girls who served with the Red Cross this summer.

Princeton workers benefited from Scottish industriousness ever since the two young volunteers from Dunfermline Fife in Scotland temporarily joined their ranks.

Under sponsorship of the English Speaking Union, Mary, a secretary for her government, and Susan, a primary school teacher, spent three weeks in this country. They arrived July 24 along with approximately 80 other young foreign visitors who served as volunteers in various community service organizations in a number of towns throughout the northeast.

When Mary and Susan first came to the Red Cross Headquarters they were given an orientation course, and then a daily "work-study" program was planned. Since that time they assisted and observed at the Mercer Unit for Retarded Children Day Camp, the Slackwood School Program for Neurologically Disturbed Children, and Princeton Nursing Home.

Besides helping in organizing the records for the blood donar program they also visited the Walson Army Hospital at Fort Dix where they added a special note to the dedicated efforts of the Grey Ladies.

Impressions. In contrast to the markedly little volunteer activity in Scotland, both Susan and Mary were deeply impressed not only by the large number of Red Cross volunteers with whom they have been personally involved, but even more by the willingness to serve shown by the teen-agers.

Both girls have also greatly enjoyed their tours of Princeton, the University and Philadelphia with host "parents" Mr. and Mrs. James Stretch, 185 Crestview Drive. Before the entire group leaves for home next week, they will spend an additional day and night in New York City.

YOUTH FOUND DEAD

From Self-Inflicted Gun Shot. Frederick S. Case, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth M. Case, 54 Hardy Drive, was found dead at his home last Thursday afternoon. His death was caused by a self-inflicted rifle shot, according to the Mercer County prosecutor's office.

Born in Ann Arbor, Mich., he attended the University School of the University of Michigan there. He graduated in June with honors from Princeton High School and had planned to attend the University of Colorado in the fall.

In addition to his parents, he is survived by a sister, Laurie, at home, and his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Francis Case of West Palm Beach, Fla.

The service was held at the Kimble Funeral Home with Rabbi Hershel Matt of the Princeton Jewish Community Center officiating. Interment COMMUNICATION BETTER Between School Groups. A series of meetings have broadened understanding between the Princeton Regional Board of Education and the faculty-administrative staff, Dr. Henry J. Powsner of the board said last week.

Three meetings with representatives of the Princeton Regional Education Association and the Administrators' Association have resulted in a "freer exchange," he told the board.

Matters aired have ranged from the handling of grievances to discussion of PREA involvement in planning the school budget. Vandalism, absenteeism and "lack of respect for the staff" were also brought forward.

And the innovative "Learning Community," which begins at Princeton High School this fall, was reviewed. Eight teachers will work with student volunteers rather than with a random selection of the student body during the coming year.

"It is agreed that regular meetings of PREA officers and members with a committee of the board would be helpful," Dr. Powsner concluded. "The board as a whole has not had an opportunity to sit together and discuss these sessions. As I see it, it is not our intent to bypass the present administrative process. . .but rather to enhance it."

FIRE ERUPTS ON ROUTE 1 After Gas Truck Overturns. A blazing fire erupted on Route 1 last Thursday after gasoline leaking from an overturned Nassau Oil Company truck burst into flames.

The truck, driven by Charles E. Fowler of West Trenton, struck a car, operated by Miss Elizabeth Urban of Kearney, near the entrance to the Forrestal Research Center. State Police of Princeton reported that Miss Urban had apparently stopped her car sideways in a northbound lane because of a flat tire.

Mr. Fowler told police that he did not see the car and hit it, causing his truck to fall over on its side. Gas then began to leak out.

A Shop-Rite tractor-trailer, driven by Walter E. Matthews of Vaux Hall, Union Township, ran into the accident later. None of the three drivers was injured.

The tank truck was carrying 3,000 gallons of gasoline, but not all of it burned. Fire trucks from Princeton, Princeton Junction, Plainsboro and Kingston fought the blaze.

BALLOON GOES ALOFT From Community Park. A multicolored balloon was sent aloft Friday morning near Township Hall as off-season promotion for ski outings. Its purpose was to advertise such events arranged by the Chalet Club of New York, which donates proceeds to charity.

The balloon remained captive, anchored on a rope grounded in Community Park near police headquarters. It rose to a height of several hundred feet and was visible throughout Princeton and a number of nearby municipalities.

Train Fares Increased

Beginning September 1, Penn Central riders will be asked to give a little more to help get the Penn-Central Railroad back on its feet.

The New Jersey Public Utilities Commission last week granted a 10% increase in fares to the railroad, on top of the 25% rise approved in January of this year. One-way tickets from Princeton to New York will go from $3 to $3.30 and monthly commutation tickets from $56.70 to $62.

The new fare hikes, also granted to the Jersey Central and Erie Lackawanna, are expected to bring in an extra $1 million to Penn Central. Final approval must be given by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

"The Tower" is a much over-looked source of information about the concerns of The Rising Generation. A prize-winner year after year in the state competition, its staff reports on such topics as the pollution of Harry's Brook, the drop in enrollment in business and home economics classes, and on new courses offered. It interviews new teachers, discusses drop-outs, and during the past year kept a hopeful, yet slightly skeptical eye on the adults' Citizens' Advisory Committee on Long Range Planning for the Princeton Regional Schools. Pam Douglas and Kathy Strother were co-editors this year; Mrs. Elaine P. Heineman was the faculty advisor.

Opinion and the High School Community

How well do we know our young people? A section of the "Morality Poll" taken by the staff of "The Tower," Princeton High School's student publication, is reprinted below. Approximately 500 students were interviewed in a random selection at gym classes of all four grades.

On the questions of sex, drugs and drinking, the poll shows that the girls tend to be more conservative than the boys Overall, 7 out of 10 students believe that pre-marital sex relations are not morally wrong; 3 out of 5 approve of co-habiting before marriage. Almost 50% believe that marijuana should be legalized; 26.7% use it "frequently". Only 1 in 5 students drink regularly.

12 Sophomores Rated 'Above Average;' One May Start for Tigers

(This is the first in a series of four articles on the prospects of Princeton University's football team in 1971.)

When the twoscore sophomores invited to report for pre-season football training arrive in Blairstown September 1, they'll find very few vacancies waiting to be filled in the Princeton lineup. Fifteen starting members of the Tigers' two platoons are scheduled to return, and most of the remaining seven positions are expected to be won by holdover varsity material.

It is, actually, a rare occasion when more than a lone sophomore manages to earn a starting berth in the Rutgers opener. Two years ago, defensive end Steve Sikora turned the trick; last fall, it was big Carl Barisich who earned the assignment at defensive tackle on the right side of the line.

SPORTS in Princeton

In the fall of 1971, Jake McCandless is better set with returning lettermen than Princeton has been at any time since the mid-60s. This is particularly so on defense, where nine of the 11 starters are again available. On offense, there are five jobs open — four of them in the line.

As the season progresses, sophomores with unusual potential occasionally break into the starting lineup, but only infrequently are they more than three or four in number. By the final game on the schedule against Cornell, only offensive tackle Bill Brown, middle guard Joe Parsons and defensive back Kevin English had joined Barisich as regulars.

Bill Cronin
Sophomore Guard Who Weighs 235

Kerry Brown
Highly Promising End

From the Class of 1974, which won half of its six games, about a dozen players have caught the coaching staff's attention so that they are rated as having more than average promise. Of these, not all will be at the top of the sophomore rankings in November; others, not singled out before practice begins, will pass them by demonstrating unanticipated progress.

Brown, the 210-lb. junior tackle, fitted into this category last fall when he quickly moved into a starting assignment after not having been listed among the top sophomores in the summer. He already ranks as one of Princeton's best offensive tackles in the past couple of decades.

By positions, these are the members of the Class of 1974 who are now figured to make the greatest contributions to the varsity this fall:

Offensive End: In this instance, the best is named first. He's Kerry Brown, a 6-3, 190-lb. wide receiver who is most likely to follow Sikora and Barisich as the lone sophomore to crack the starting lineup on opening day. Brown combines a major degree of football sense with good speed and a fine pair of hands.

Winner of the Lourie Award as the best player on the freshman team last fall, he caught 28 passes for 434 yards — a considerably better mark in six games than Pete Hauck, the leading receiver on the varsity, was able to achieve in nine when the Tigers had season-long aerial problems. Hauck's graduation leaves the solit end position open, and there is every reason to believe that it will be filled by this sure-fingered alumnus of the football-conscious western Pennsylvania country.

Offensive Tackle: Glenn Yamore lineman, heads for the varsity with the knowledge nik, another promising sophothat a pair of lettermen who held the tackle positions last year are returning this fall. He'll lend valuable depth as a replacement, however, after a season as a starting freshman.

Yanik is 6-2, 230 pounds. Like Kerry Brown, he comes from the Pennsylvania coal country (Wilkes-Barre), where a lot of people say the nation's best players learn their high school football.

Offensive Guards: There are three, of whom the pick is Bill Cronin. At 6-3, 235 pounds, he is bigger than Steve Saner, the departed senior whose job he will be trying to fill, and he has the ability to give junior letterman Steve Curtis a battle for the starting assignment.

Tentative plans are to convert a pair of centers from last year's freshman team into guards. Jim Rafeedie, 6-0, 200, and John Meighan, about the same build, are ranked as having good potential.

Flanker Back: Walt Snickenberger, 6-1, 192, was the top halfback on the Class of 1974 squad. He'll be in the wide open battle to take over for the graduated Brian McCullough. Interestingly, McCullough's father went to Cornell and Snickenberger's home town is Ithaca.

This Andover alumnus has good potential as a broken field runner. He's a versatile athlete, having also been the leading scorer on last winter's freshman hockey team with 26 goals.

Fullback: Snickenberger's running mate last fall was an Andover classmate, Romerio Perkins, who weights 210 despite standing an inch short of six feet. He was a workhorse, enjoying the line-busting duties but also showing good speed if he saw daylight.

Perkins is aware that with Doug Blake returning, his first year on the varsity will be playing a reserve role. Ability is there, however, and he figures to be heard from this fall.

Linebacker: The unusual holdover strength on defense will make it highly unlikely that a sophomore will start at any time during the season, barring injury to the key personnel. Expectations are, however, that Tom Montebell may win the right to play as Phil Barbaccia's replacement at right linebacker.

Montebell's progress was slowed last fall by a leg injury but he is highly regarded. Still another Pennsylvanian (Kittanning), he stands 6-0 weighs about 200.

Others: Watch for a converted quarterback from the 1974 eleven to fit into the varsity pattern this fall. Tony Riposta will be switched at Blairstown, possibly to a back up job at safety, or, if adequate ability does not develop at tight end, he may get a shot there. He weighs .200, stands 6-2.

Ken Beytin, a hefty 235 pounds and 6-4, will be converted from defensive end to a tackle on that platoon and may make it as high as second on the depth chart behind senior Bob Saunders. Jim Shaw, 6-3, 210, has good potential as a defensive end behind the veteran Norm Townsend. Bill Skinner, 6-2, 185, will get a shot at cornerback, but has speed and good hands. If the corps of wide receivers does not develop satisfactorily, he may be switched to offense.

(Next Week: Tentative Offensive Lineup)

13 LETTERMEN LOST

Or Is It 15? Last fall, when the number of lettermen who had completed their Princeton football careers was totalled up, it came to a number that virtually any coach would consider lucky--13. Because the number of departing seniors often tops 20, loss of no more than a baker's dozen was regarded as a favorable omen for the coming season.

With the passage of time, however, the attrition has increased, and there is a good possibility that the number will rise to 15 with the departure from the squad of a pair of running backs who won letters in their first year on the varsity. In the summer of '71, neither Bill Early nor Willie Williams are listed on the Blairstown roster.

Both showed good promise as ball carriers, and the loss of Early's potential will be particularly felt. While used sparingly last fall, he had shown immense promise in his freshman year and had been counted on this season as a back-up for both Hank Bjorklund and Doug Blake.

Early will return to the campus next month, but had notified Jake McCandless that he felt his academic duties would be too complex to permit continuation of a football career. Williams' decision to return was in doubt at the end of the spring semester.

By positions, these are the 13 seniors (seven of them starters) who departed following graduation last June:

Ends: Pete Hauck and Chris Montgomery, who were, respectively, the split and tight ends. Both were sure-handed receivers and competent blockers, and major replacement problems loom at these two spots.

Tackles: Dick Williamson and Chuck Dressel, both reservers on the offensive line. Neither had won a letter until last fall.

Guards: Steve Saner, a regular on offense in 1970 after two injury plagued seasons, and Art Ellis, a two-year letterman who saw action as a middle guard on defense.

Center: Kirk Liddell, the starter at this position for the past two years. His blocking ability will be visibly missed.

Offensive Backs: Brian McCullough, the player who was all but lost in the decline of the Tigers' fortunes last year. As a sophomore, he had gained 1,100 yards total offense, ranking him with Dick Kazmaier and Royce Flippin as the only three backs to top 1,000 yards in offense during their first year on the varsity.

Switched to flanker back last fall because he was also a capable blocker and wide receiver, he went into near-total eclipse when the offense bogged down. Nonetheless, his loss together with that of Hauck and Montgomery creates a major replacement problem on offense.

Defensive Backs: Four two of them starters. Captain Dennis Burns, the starting right linebacker, and Jeff Davis, who had earned the safety position by mid-season as a senior. Two reserves: linebacker Bernie Barrett and Bruce Corcoran, who was Davis' replacement.

Capable varsity holdovers exist to fill the gaps left by Burns and Davis, giving the Tigers an unusually experienced defensive platoon. Expectations are that it will be tested to the utmost in the early going while the attack is rebuilt to the extent that it can meet Columbia and Cornell on even terms in key October contests.

THREE-YEAR LETTERMAN: Brian McCullough, runner, passer, receiver, filled three positions in the Princeton backfield in as many seasons. His versatility will be greatly missed.

Freshman Captain Missing

A top sophomore who would have fitted into the varsity football picture this fall is not on the Blairstown roster. Jim Stewart, a standout linebacker who captained the freshman last fall and called the defensive signals has left college.

Expectations here are that he will complete his military service requirements and very possibly return to college thereafter. On such a basis, he would still have three years of eligibility ahead of him.

INDOOR COURTS OKAYED

years including Teaneck, Hartford, Conn.; and Kisco, N.Y.

The present swimming pool complex will be demolished and the site completely relandscaped to accommodate the 6-court facility. In addition, a 25-foot wide easement on each side of the existing stream on the property will be dedicated to the Township by the new Center, and, as agreed upon, a decelerization lane on Washington Road will be planned in order to avoid traffic tie-ups.

In addition to the six courts planned, the new Center will include dry air sauna and exercise rooms, a pro shop, locker rooms and a hospitality lounge.

John Conroy, Associate Director of Athletics and Physical Education of Princeton University, has agreed to serve as manager of the Center.

The Indoor Tennis Center has also included in its building plans, free office space to serve as headquarters for the growing activities of the Princeton Community Tennis Program. A descriptive brochure and rate schedule is now being prepared in order to handle advanced court reservations for the coming season.

10 TROPHIES WON

By Princeton Tennis Players. At the Trenton City Junior Champjionships last week more than 25 young Princeton tennis tournament players competed in this sanctioned USLTA event which drew almost 200 entries.

Out of the strong field which entered, Princeton walked away with 10 trophies. Top winners were: Dan Thompson, Steve Tobolsky and Vicki Austin.

In an all-Princeton finals of the 18 boys doubles, Dan Thompson and Steve Tobolsky had a tight three set match with Princeton's Michele Glouchevitch and Bill Schmidt, finally emerging the victors 4-6, 6-4, 6-3.

In the 18 girls doubles, Vicki Austin and her partner, Jan Bloodworth of Pipersville, Pennsylvania, defeated Renee Gregorio of Interlaken, N.J. and Pam Moss of Easton, Pennsylvania, 6-4, 6-4.

Vicki won the doubles inspite of having injured her back in a match played the previous day.

She, therefore, had to retire from the singles finals where she was to meet Jan Bloodworth. Vicki had just returned from the girls National Championships in Charleston, W. Va.

Another Princeton finalist just returned from the National 12 and under Junior Championships in Chattanooga, Tenn., Jay Lapidus, played Harry Robinson of Philadelphia in an exciting three set finals. In the third set with a 6-6 score in games and a 4-4 score in tie-breaker points, Lapidus hit a ball long and the third set and match went to Robinson.

Three other finalists were Libby Hicks and Terry Blake of Lawrenceville and Bill Schmidt of Princeton. Libby lost to Wendy Levy, 6-1, 6-2 in the 12 and under girls singles and Terny was runner-up to Renee Gregories in the 18 and under singles in another tight, long three set match, 6-3, 4-6, 6-4. Bill Schmidt on the way to finals, upset the No. 1 seed Igor Kibitz and then was defeated in the finals by Steve Genter, 6-1, 6-3.

OFF TO ATLANTA: Bill Schmidt, who reached the finals in the Trenton Junior Championships last weekend before losing, is off to Atlanta, Ga. this weekend as a member of the Princeton contingent headed there for the National City Team Championships.

This week, many of the tournament players are in Allentown for the Lehigh District Junior Championships and next week they will be at the Eastern Pennsylvania Boys' Court Championships at the Philmont Country Club. Anyone who still wishes entry blanks or car pool information for Philmont should call Sue Davis, 466-2379.

ASTRO AHEAD BY ONE

In Business Soltball, R C A, Astro clung to its one-game lead in the western division of the Business Softball League last week with a 11-1 triumph over American Cyanamid.

Second place RCA also won, beating Firmenich, 23-8, setting the stage for this week's meeting between the two. An RCA A win will result in another game to decide the title.

A nine-hit, eight-run second inning sent Astro winging on its way to its 11th victory of the season. John Senitch, Joe Skiba, Tom Young and John Kovich led the winner's attack. Bob Gotwald allowed Cyanamid just eight scattered hits.

RCA A found itself in a close contest until the fifth inning, when it erupted for 13 runs on 13 hits. Jim Carnes had four hits, Murray Wood slammed a home run, and five other RCA players had three hits apiece.

Over in the east, McGraw-Hill won over FMC, 12-3, and ETS had no trouble with IDA. McGraw-Hill has clinched first place in the eastern division, but the post-season playoffs will provide ETS with the same chance it had last year to win the BSL championship.

In other games RCA B walloped Shearer Tree, 12-1, as Phil Heyman won his first game of the season. George Hennessy and Joe Groppe hit home runs for RCA, and Vince Boccanfuso and Mike Epstein played well in the field.

Cities Service beat ERC 10-6, in the only other game scheduled. Hopewell TV was idle.

NASSAU CLUB SPLITS

Now in Third Place. A 140-112 victory over Brooktree followed by a 152-104 loss to Ben Franklin left the Nassau Swim Club with a 7-2 record at the end of competition last week. It is now in third place behind Stony Brook and Ben Franklin who share first place with 8-1 marks.

All teams have two more meets left in the league's season. If they are still tied, Stony Brook and Ben Franklin plan a "swim-off" to decide first place.

Double winners for Nassau against Ben Franklin, which was aided in the win by its exceptionally good divers, were Tory Garvey, and Jean Rosenbluth, who won the 25-

ALL-STARS HAVE CHANCE

To Win Trenton Tourney. For the first time in nine years the 12-and-under all-star team of the Princeton Youth Baseball League has an excellent chance to win the Annual Police Athletic League Invitational Tournament in Trenton.

Sponsored by Princeton Motor Lodge, the team has entered the nine-year-old tournament every summer, but has never won more than two games. This year, however, it has captured its first five contests and is the only unbeaten team in the double-elimination tourney.

This Thursday beginning at 6 p.m. it will have two opportunities at the championship. Games in the early part of this week among those teams who have already lost once will have decided who will meet the Princeton All-Stars.

If Princeton wins, it will be the champion; if it loses, another game will be played immediately after the first for the championship. The games will be played at the Trenton PAL Field on Betts Avenue, off Princeton Avenue.

Some 26 teams began play in the tournament. In its first contest, Princeton eeked out a 2-1 over East Brunswick triumph on a two-run homer by Tom Hagadorn and the three-hit pitching of Jim LaPlaca.

The Hamilton Township all-stars fell 6-2 last Wednesday with Paul Soderman on the mound. Soderman also hit a two-run homer and Dave Shillaber blasted a bases loaded double good for two more runs.

LaPlaca Hurls No-Hitter. On Thursday, LaPlaca took care of the third game, firing a no-hitter in a 3-0 win over Chambersburg. He was only two outs away from a perfect game in the sixth inning contest, when an infield error spoiled his chances. He fanned 12 of the 19 batters he faced. Dana Nini and Soderman knocked in the runs.

The next night against Levittown, Pa., Princeton's title hopes began to fade away when it found itself behind 11-1 after only two innings of play. However, Jon Silverman came in to pitch and hurled one-hit shutout ball the rest of the way for the all-stars.

His teammates responded with nine runs in the third to trail by just one, and then six more in the fourth to out the game away. It was an 18-11 final.

On Saturday night, Sunnybrae became the fifth victim, going down 5-4 on a four-hitter by LaPlaca, his third win of the tournament. Princeton got all its five runs in the second inning on the hitting of Silverman, Shillaber, Soderman, Scot Thompson, Tony Opperman and Mark Blaxill.

Soderman will start the first game Thursday evening with Silverman and Shillaber ready if needed. Because of a league rule against using the same pitcher in consecutive games, LaPlaca may not pitch the first game, but can pitch the second, if its needed.

Other players on the squad include Dan Aronovic, Dan Coluccio, Kurt Tazelaar, Jon Miller, Dave Robinson and Scott Trani. The team is managed by Craig Wood, assisted by Bob Bruschi, Ray Richards and Dominick Mastroianni.

BEDENS BROOK FIRST

In Area Swim League. A pair of victories, 152-106 over Lawrenceville and 143-115 over Brooktree, enabled the Bedens Brook Swim team to clinch first place last week in League II of the Princeton Swimming and Diving Association.

The two wins upped Bedens Brook's record to 7-3 with two meets remaining. Instrumental in capturing the two wins were team members Diana Caskey, Pixie Kohli, Molly McDougald and Debbie Burks for the eight-and-under girls; Billy Ross, Lee Eppel and Billy McClelland, eight-and-under boys; Jane Henderson and Sue Hughes, 10-and-under girls; Scott Silverman, Doug Ferguson and John Rodgers, 10-and-under boys; Lynne Eppel, Leslie Gulick, Ann Gulick, Sue Lyle and Amy Drezner, 12-and-under girls; Ned Harvey, Curt Cunningham, 12-and-under boys; Sue Ross, Beth Ross, and Cyra Cain, 17and-under girls; and Mark Silverman and Mike Hlil, 17-and-under boys.

PINE BRAE SECOND

In Swimming Championship. Pine Brae Country Club's Swim Team won the second place trophy in the season-end championships of the Central New Jersey Swimming and Division Association held Friday and Saturday, August 6 and 7, at Cedar Hill Club, Somerset, which took first place.

In the qualifying races, the Pine Brae swimmers won 37 places for the finals in individual events and eight places in the relays.

Breaking previous league time records were Beaver O'Hara in the boys 12 and under 100-yard individual medley with a time of 1.12.2 and the boys 11 and 12 50-yard butterfly with a time of 30.7.

Also, Mike McKenna in the boys 11 and 12 50 yard freestyle (27.2) and the 50-yard breaststroke (35.6); Tom McKenna in the boys 15-17 100-yard freestyle (54.5) and 100-yard backstroke (1.07.4); Dede O'Hara in the girls 13 and 14 100-yard freestyle (1.03.2), and Beth Timmerman in the girls 13 and 14 100-yard breaststroke (1.25.1).

Pine Brae relay teams setting records were the girls team of Carol McGrath, Maureen McGrath, Margaret Martin and Miss O'Hara, who won the 13-17 200-yard free relay (1.55.3) and medley relay (2.13.1); and the boys' team of Matt Strickland, O'Hara, John Cummins and McKenna who won the 9-12 100-yard freestyle (54.6) and Medley (1.03.3) relays.

Margaret Martin, by adding two first in the girls 15-17 breaststroke and butterfly to her two relay wins, took home four gold medals as did O'Hara and McKenna, while Midd O'Hara received three gold edals.

Second place silver medals went to Matt Strickland, boys 10 and under 50-yard breaststroke; Carol McGrath, girls 13-14 100-yard backstroke; Dede O'Hara, girls 13-14 100 butterfly; and Julie Strickland, girls 13-14 100-yard breaststroke.

Third place bronze medals were taken by Gretchen Wendell, girls 9 and 10 50-yard backstroke; Paul McKenna, boys 9 and 10 50-yard breaststroke; and Strickland, boys 9 and 10 50-yard freestyle.

HOUGHTON REAL ESTATE

TWO IN THE SEVENTIES

A view of Lake Carnegie in the winter and tall shade trees for privacy in the summer—a delightful combination and certainly one of Princeton's prettiest and traffic free locations. The four bedroom house with an exterior of southern elegance has been lovingly and creatively maintained for its one owner. The large family room has a fireplace and opens onto a dropped patio beyond which are gardens and multitudes of flowering shrubs. A short walk to Riverside School and available for the opening day!

The highlight of our five bedroom (Braeburn) house is its very spectacular lot. It is densely wooded with natural dogwood and extends through to the adjoining road, along which the owners have planted literally hundreds of flowering shrubs and now eight years later have created a property with privacy for picnics found only in the depth of a country atmosphere. What more could one want in a convenient Township location close to everything and the Littlebrook School?

Surround yourself with trees, grass and history.

There's plenty of all three on what may be the highest spot between New York and Philadelphia. Certainly it's one of the most historic, if not the most beautiful. ■ Just 15 homes will be custom built from your plans or ours abutting Greenacres Country Club Golf Course. Each will share in a sweep of common land . . . and in views and privacy all but vanished these days. ■ Isn't all this worth $50,000 or more?
